THIRTY-TWO GIRLS NOW AT THE RESIDENCE HALL

Lunch Served to More Than Sixty Each Day—Girl Residents Dine There Also

Business at the Girls Residence Hall of the State Teachers College is picking up. Thirty-two girls now make their home at the new building. When it was opened only eighteen girls had secured rooms but each day now more are moving in.

Possibly the reason is that some of the girls were skeptical as to dormitory life and now that they have found out that the residence hall is a home and not a prison they are beginning to engage rooms.

In the neighborhood of sixty college students now take their lunches in the dining room of the hall. All of the girls who live there take their dinners in the building several other students and some of the townspeople have been there for a meal or so.

Charles Abbey, living northwest of Hopkins, suffered a stroke of paralysis yesterday. His sisters, Mrs. Will Saunders and Mrs. John Smith, went to the Abbey home yesterday on account of his illness.

MAYOR SAYS NO MORE CHARIVARIS

ORDINANCE WILL BE STRICTLY ENFORCED HEREAFTER.

ONE HELD LAST NIGHT

Ordinance Against Blowing of Horns, Beating Pans, Etc., and Also of Discharging Firearms.

Mayor Fred P. Robinson issued a warning this afternoon that hereafter there will be no more charivaris in the city. There is an ordinance against the blowing of horns, beating drums, kettles or pans, jungling bells as are common in a charivari and there is an ordinance prohibiting the discharge of firearms.

"Here recently there has been a spirit and a disposition to charivari to such an extent that hereafter these ordinances will be enforced," said Mayor Robinson. "These charivaris are disturbances of peace and are likely to cause trouble such as people getting shot and of scaring people."

A number of people charivaried Leo B. Knox and Ben Hale in the city late last evening and Carl Tarpley out in the country. Several firearms were used as well as other noise making instruments. Many people on hearing the shots thought there was a hold up or some other trouble, while several others were frightened.

Mayor Robinson secured the names of a number of those in the charivari party last night but decided he would not make any arrests. He thought he would give warning. Hereafter these ordinances will be strictly enforced, Mayor Robinson says.

These ordinances are:

Section 50 of Revised Ordinance Number 16, Discharging Fire-Arms: Any person who shall within this city, fire off or discharge any gun, carbine, pistol, revolver or other fire-arms or ordinance either by day or by night shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, shall be fined not less than one nor more than one hundred dollars: provided that nothing in this section contained shall be so construed to prevent the discharge of fire-arms, or the firing of cannon on days of public celebration; nor shall it be construed to prevent military drill or practice; nor officers, in the discharge of their public duties.

Section 46 of Revised Ordinance number 16, Whoever shall in this city charivari any person or persons by blowing horns, beating drums, kettles, or pans, jungling bells, or by any such means as are commonly called "charivari" or "charivarie" each and every person so offending shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. The penalty for a misdemeanor where not otherwise provided is not less than one nor more than one hundred dollars.

SEVERAL LOCAL SCHOOL SCENES ARE TAKEN TODAY.

Several school scenes are being taken by F. R. Marcell today for the Nodaway County School Movie.

At the State Teachers College, several scenes of the Philomathean play, "Prunella," were enacted and shot for the film.

Scenes of home nursing and in serving and preparing home meals were taken in the Smith-Hughes department at the high school. Also two pictures were taken showing the commercial rooms and the students at work.

These films will be made a part of the school film.

A NEW POOL HALL ORDINANCE PASSED

LAST NIGHT BY CITY COMMISSIONERS

A NUMBER OF CHANGES

Regarding Permits for Minors, Revoking of Licenses, and a Number of Other Things

A new city ordinance, relative to pool halls, bowling alleys, skating rinks and shooting galleries, was passed by the City Commissioners last night. This ordinance is Number 904 and differs from the old ordinance regarding these things in a number of ways.

The Commissioners had figured on and planned to close the pool halls, bowling alleys and skating rink in Maryville but after the matter had been gone over by attorneys it was concluded that the city lacked the power to do so.

One of the changes in the new ordinance is a safeguard against the proprietors of these places using factitious permits for minors to play and frequent their places. Under the new ordinance a form of permit for minors is made out and the parent or guardian must go to the pool hall or other place of recreation and after seeing the situation must make out the permit there. It must be signed by him, by the minor in question and by the proprietor.

All permits now in force are revoked by the ordinance.

The proprietor is also protected by the ordinance in that false permits cannot be brought to him by a minor.

The Commissioners are given power to suspend or revoke licenses. For the first time that a proprietor of one of these places is found guilty his license will be suspended for a period of from ten to thirty days and for the second offense the license will be revoked.

After a license has been revoked it will be unlawful to grant another license to the same man or for the same building for a period of one year.

The ordinance also makes the proprietors responsible for running a decent and clean place.

This ordinance went into effect as soon as it was passed. Some ordinances require a ten days period before going into effect but these are of certain character and as the new ordinance is not of that character it goes into effect at once.

The first license granted under the new ordinance was to Ed Godsey. He was granted a license for a period of one year for four pool tables.

Considering the changes and the differences from the old ordinance in regard to this subject the new one is good and should prove effectual. That it will be rigidly enforced was assured today by Mayor F. P. Robinson.

The new ordinance in part follows:

Section one provides that a person, persons or firms operating such pool or billard hall, bowling alleys or skating rinks or shooting gallery for hire, shall be a law abiding, assessed, tax paying citizens of the City of Maryville, and a bona fide owner of said business.

Section two provides upon the filing of the application with the council of the city for a license it shall be the duty of the commissioners to investigate the rooms and surroundings of the proposed business and if in their judgment and discretion, that the person so applying is not a fit person to conduct such business or that the location of said building is such that said business should not be conducted therein, then the commissioners may refuse to grant such license. A hearing to determine whether an applicant for license can be held and if the commissioners should find such applicant not to be a proper person to conduct and operate such business, then they shall refuse such license.

For every pool or billard table, bowling alley, skating rink or shooting gallery, kept or conducted within the City of Maryville for which a fee is charged for playing thereon there is levied a license tax, payable to the City of Maryville as follows:

For each pool table, $10.00 per year.

For each billard table, $20.00 per year.

For each bowling alley (per alley), $50 per year.

For each skating rink, $100.00 per year.

For each shooting gallery, $100.00

LAMKIN VOICES VIEWS ON THE M. I. A. A. SPLIT

Says Denominational Institutions Have Everything to Lose and Nothing to Win

President Uel W. Lamkin of the State Teachers College yesterday voiced his sentiments in regard to the split of the nine denominational colleges of the state from the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Mr. Lamkin does not agree with Coach Maynor, who says that these nine colleges have everything to win and nothing to lose. He said, "The withdrawal of these colleges from the M. I. A. A. makes them stand in their own light. I disagree with Mr. Maynor. Instead of having everything to win and nothing to lose they have everything to lose and nothing to win. The question of athletic supremacy is of minor consideration. By severing relations with the state teachers colleges and the School of Mines these colleges are placing athletics above all else. In this they are the losers."

The attitude taken by the head of the College is undoubtedly right. The teachers colleges of the state are growing by leaps and bounds and their strides in advancement are greater than those of the other institutions of the state with the exception of the universities. The denominational colleges are hurting themselves and not the state institutions by severing relations in athletics or anything else.

BEARCATS LOSE BY ONLY FOUR POINTS

JEWEL TAKES GAME FROM S. T. C. 33 TO 29.

'MEN DID WELL' MAYNOR

Coach Says That Maryville Boys Have Improved 500 Percent Since Game Played Monday.

The State Teachers College Bearcats lost their first away from home game last night to the William Jewell College team at Liberty. They lost it, but only by four points. The score was 29 to 33. Inability to shoot free throws turned the tide against Coach Maynor's men. Had they been able to count from the foul line when the opportunity presented itself they would have won.

However, it was a victory and not a defeat for the College men. Although the long end of the score went to the Jewell team, the Bearcats won, in that they played the game all the time and, against odds, played just as good ball as their opponents.

For one thing the William Jewell court was against them. It is not nearly as large as the court at the State Teachers College and has four posts in the center.

Despite this fact the Maryville boys used the Meanwell short pass game entirely and time and again worked the ball the length of the floor for a basket.

Brown won high point honors for the team. He scored four times from the field. Miller and Leech each dropped the ball in the basket three times and Ellis counted once on one of those lazy looping shots that stay in the air about an hour before they finally hit the basket. Wilson also made a neat shot for two points.

The Jewel team was made up of dead shots. They had their eye with them last night and at times their shooting resembled that of the Park College five, in the uncanny ability to loop 'em from all angles.

No one was injured in the game. All of the men fought hard and were tired when it was over, but they were minus even minor injuries.

But one substitution was made by Coach Maynor during the entire game. Wilson was substituted for Kirby shortly after the beginning of the second half and continued to play through the remainder of the period.

The five that started the game were Miller and Leech at forward, Brown in the center and Ellis and Kirby at guard.

Coach Maynor said that the Jewell team was made up of good players and that for the most part they were much taller than the Maryville boys.

In speaking of the game the Coach said: "Without a doubt the team has improved 500 percent since Monday night. They worked the short pass all of the time and it proved effectual. I am proud of them. Had they been able to shoot free throws a little better the game would have been won."

It was easy to see that the coach was in good spirits over the game. Of course it was lost, but then what he was glad about was the fact that the men were getting onto the Meanwell style and were playing better ball.

The team left Liberty this morning at 9:20 o'clock for Cameron, where they will meet the Missouri Wesleyan five tonight.

The returns of tonight's game will be given at the Democrat-Forum sometime in the neighborhood of 10 o'clock.

FANS AWAIT RETURNS OF BEARCAT-JEWELL GAME

Crowd of Fifty Gathered at Democrat-Forum Last Night—Returns Again Tonight

That the basketball fans are becoming interested was proved last night when a crowd of some fifty or more gathered in and around the Democrat-Forum office waiting for the returns of the Bearcat-Jewell basketball game.

Moreover, when the score was announced, there were no small number of comments on the Bearcats and all were favorable.

Tonight the returns of the Bearcat-Cameron game will be received about 10 o'clock and will be posted. Come on, fans, the more the merrier.

Judge Says "If Love Is Gone From Your Heart, Then There Is Nothing Else to Do."

Muskogee, Okla., Jan. 12.—Judge R. N. Graves is dead and his wife, Elizabeth, is probably fatally wounded following Judge Graves' sudden loss of reason while conversing with his wife. Graves, it is said, had been reading poetry, and laying aside his book said to his wife, "Do you love me any more?" "We are too old to speak of such a thing as love," said his wife. "If love is gone from your heart, then there is nothing else to do," replied the judge, and grabbing an ax, swung the weapon into the skull of his wife. He then went to the kitchen and seized a butcher knife and ended his own life by slashing his throat.

WILL NOT MAKE ANY FURTHER PROTEST

GERMANY'S OFFICIAL PROTEST WAS RECEIVED.

A STATEMENT LATER

The American Policy to Be Stated Should Such a Course Be Considered Advisable.

Washington, Jan. 12—While manifestly not in sympathy with the French seizure of the rich Ruhr Valley, there were no indications here today that the United States will make any further protest at this time other than that already conveyed by the recall of the American troops on the Rhine. Germany's official protest against the French occupation was filed at the stated department, but officials declined to state whether there would be any reply to it, other than the usual formal acknowledgment.

A German protest, made to the world but addressed to America in particular, offers an inviting vehicle by which this government can make a plain statement of the American policy in the present crises, should such a course be considered advisable.

Troop Movements at Essen, Jan. 12.—The center of the field activities is at Steel, one and a half miles southeast of Essen. There has been no airplane activities.

The French troops are all white, there being no negroes among them.

An International News Service correspondent says the occupation of the Ruhr is far-reaching and include all Ruhr resources.

Essen, Germany, Jan. 12—Gerinany began to show its teeth today when a committee of the most prominent industrialists of Essen conferred with M. Coste, French inspector-general of mines, and General Danvignes to attempt to find ground upon which some working arrangement can be attained.

Essen is completely surrounded by French troops. The situation is quiet and tense. Business has been going on as usual.

The only points in the city militarly occupied were the postofice and telegraph building, the railroad station, the offices of the coal syndicate and the offices of the general management of the railroads.

The French soldiers received orders to remain in barracks.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS TO PLAY ST. JOSEPH Y. W. TEAM

Arrangements have practically been completed for a girls game between the Maryville High School girls and the Y. W. C. A. girls team of St. Joseph to be played on the local court the same night of the Benton-Maryville boys game, according to Miss Lois Nash, coach of the girls team. The game will be played January 19.

The St. Joseph team is reported to be very strong and it is thought that it will be good practice and experience for the Maryville girls to be matched with that team.

On February 26, the Maryville girls will be given their first chance at the local high school's rival when they go to Trenton to play the Trenton girls.

Many at Press Meeting.

St. Joseph, Jan. 12.—More than one hundred newspaper editors are here today attending the thirty-second annual meeting of the Northwest Missouri Press Association. The visiting editors were formally welcomed by the Chamber of Commerce.

EXERCISE FOR INDOOR WORKERS

People who work indoors generally believe their tasks are active, so that they do not need to take additional exercise. Many of them are all tired out when the day is over, and think they would have no energy for any kind of physical development. Women remark that housework gives them all the activity they need.

And yet most of these folks are using only a limited set of muscles. Frequently they exercise only their legs and arms, while the trunk muscles are idle and dormant and fail to give the vital organs the needed stimulus.

Walter Camp, the noted expert on athletic sports and gymnastics, whose "daily dozen" exercises are widely popular, compares men and women to wild animals in captivity. They have a body created for use in active life, yet most of them use it only in the comparatively sluggish tasks of indoor work. Hence they do not keep it properly developed.

He has watched animals at zoological gardens, to see how they keep up their vigor. He notes that they do it through constant stretching motions. So he feels that human beings should have some form of exercise that will stretch the muscles of the trunk that otherwise would go stale.

An automobile needs a powerful and smooth running engine if it is to do its work. You don't cure the faults in its operation simply by putting on a new tire. So the human body must have its vital organs functioning actively, and must have something besides well developed leg and arm muscles. Indoor workers would not get tired so easily, if each morning they would spend five or ten minutes taking some good system of exercises that would keep these vital organs active and working.

The doughboys are at last ordered out of Germany. They should have been out a long time ago. Just what they have been doing there is not quite clear except to keep faith with the Allies and to possibly assist in the collection of the reparations. In the latter case the expense of keeping them there has been greater than the amount of money realized. The nervousness and unconservative attitude of France might embroil Europe in another war and entail further suffering on a much abused people. The small body of American troops have been maintained along the Rhine at the solicitation of both the Allies and Germany in the belief that their presence would contribute to peace but President Harding evidently believes it unwise to take the chance of the natural embarassment that might follow any outburst under present circumstances.

The alarm clock is another of those institutions that is most unpopular when it does its duty.

It is dead certain that
All things will come to
The other fellow if you
Just sit down and wait.

Home to a lot of men is the place where they let their grouch have full sway.

What the average sport followers in Maryville can't understand is how the world gets along between base ball seasons.

Our neighbors little boy says a hypocrite is a kid who runs to school every day.

A lot of people are not convinced until they have made the same mistake a half dozen times and then they are likely to think the other fellow is wrong.

Wonder how many Maryville men in making out their income tax reports this year will list their losses at poker or on wild cat mining stocks as "Gifts to Charity."

Every woman likes to be well groomed but they like a lot better to be bridegroomed, a bachelor observed to us the other day.

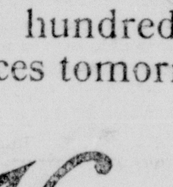
Uncle Abner says many a man has found that he can make good money minding his own business.

A lot of men are interested in how many hours should constitute a day's work while a lot more are interested in how many hours of night should be turned into day.

One of our autoist friends says life is full of tragedies. He no sooner got his Christmas expenses out of the way than he had to dig down for his automobile license.

Many shicks are endeavoring to renew their friendship with a lot of girls they dropped just before the Christmas season.

Now we know what is the matter with a lot of people who are always putting forth some wild theories for the regulation of everything, secretary of Labor James J. Davis writing recently in The Iron Moulder said "I never knew a theorist who was not a sick man."



Louise, the stenographer, says she would like to compare some people she knows with some animals but she does not like to be accused of cruelty to animals.

Vagrant Musings.

"The more the merrier" sounds all right to every one but the fellow who has to pay the bills.

You don't have to have physical strength to be a shoplifter.

A week in the country usually all that is needed to make the average city man strong for the city.

Slander and moths are close relatives. The latter eats holes in good clothing while the former eats holes in good reputations.

A lot of people will stand up to their opinion until it comes to putting up the money.

The Virtues Of Yesterday.

When father went to pay the grocery bill on Saturday night a $10 bill would more than cover and leave enough to satisfy the butcher's account.

Skidmore Men Visitors Today.

Clarence Smith and Harry Warley of Skidmore were visitors today in Maryville. Smith was formerly a vocational student at the University of Missouri but was forced to discontinue his studies on account of his health.

HE WOULDN'T HAVE ANYTHING BUT A FRONT SEAT

And for That Very Reason Didn't Deserve Any Front Seat.

(By C. L. Ficklin, Editor Dekalb County Herald, Maysville, Mo.)

The Sunday School lesson next Sunday can be very nicely divided under three heads.

Hunting a Front Seat.

Taking a Back Seat.

Calling the Poor to Supper.

And we shall try to treat the lesson under these three heads.

Hunting a front seat.

In Luke 14 the typical guest tried to push his way to the chief seat. He looked upon himself as the chief man at the table. He looked down on everybody else. If he had given voice to his feelings he probably would have said:

"I am the best and biggest man here. I am the first citizen of my town. I am smart, and I am good looking; I've got money; I am at the top socially—I want the front seat."

And he proved by his very mood that he didn't deserve the front seat. No man who clamors for a front seat deserves it.

But it's mighty hard to keep out of our lives the desire for the front seat.

Lots of fellows will give more to the hospital fund or the Red Cross if they know that the names will be published and their name at the top—it's a struggle for the front seat.

We do lots of things that are just a struggle for the front seat. For instance—

Hustle to be the only man in the county worth $300,000.

Buy a Pierce-Arrow.

Go to Kansas City and buy a $200 dress.

Get mad if Mrs. Johnson's daughter buys a hat like ours at Mrs. Taylor's Millinery Store.

Get mad in arguments if the other fellow puts us in a hole—we want the front place.

Clamor for social prestige.

Run for presidential elector—"for the honor"—for of course that's all there is to it.

We do a great deal of that front seat stuff.

I knew a preacher. He'd come to our newspaper office and hand the slim lady at the desk an item like this:

"Dr. I. I. Puff is in St. Joseph today."

Or, "Dr. Puff will preach Sunday."

Or, "Dr. I. I. Puff is entertaining his daughter from Denver."

The item varied but the "Dr." stuff never varied. It was a part of the everlasting clamor for the front seat. It is a mighty hard thing to figure out how a fellow in the preaching work can amount to very much in the work who persists in calling himself Doctor—it is a rank give away.

Taking a back seat.

I knew a woman. She was a widow, left early in life with something like seven children.

She hid her life away at the wash tub and around the cook stove—for those children.

She kept them in school—and she stayed in the background.

She never went to sleep at night until all her boys were in—she had a heart of gold.

If she cried she preferred to cry on her pillow at night—and then smile and be brave in the day time.

She could make a fine angel food cake—but would hardly admit it.

Her escaloped oysters would almost melt in your mouth. And yet I think she would hardly admit that.

She could sing—but preferred to let others sing.

She was a fine biscut maker—her biscuts had that real fluffiness and brownness and all round completeness that made you sit back in your chair, draw a big breath of pride and say, "These are sure great."

She was at home in the sick room, saying the gentle word at the right time, knowing when to be silent and say nothing at all, doing the deft and tender thing at the right moment in the right way.

And she was at home also with a baby boy on her knee giving him a jolting and teaching him to say "Hickory, dickory dock, the mouse ran up the clock."

Her hands were hard and her face was tender. That's a lot better combination than soft hands and a hard face.

But the chances are that if you'd get a bunch of friends together and go in on her and surprise her on her birthday, and bring her a new leather rocking chair and pull her up to the front and tell her she must occupy the place of honor, she would blush and feel awkward—and feel like she didn't belong there. She was not a front seat seeker.

She had a silent, modest glow at a prayer meeting that was all the finer because of its unobtrusiveness—she wasn't a front seat hunter.

And she'd just slip into church and take a modest place. And felt that She was unworthy. She loved God but seemed to feel she was one of his feeblest children.

Of such is the company that will be called to "come on up higher."

Calling the Poor to Supper.

After Jesus had called the swellheads down for making a break for the chief seats, he turned to the hosts and told him whom he ought to invite when he put on a supper.

He told him the way to do was to invite the poor, unfortunate.

Society to this day does not follow that advice.

We call on people who call on us.

We move in our own circle, our set.

We invite to our New Year's party the people that belong to our outfit, the people in our class, the "best people," the "quality" crowd, the cultured, the elegant, the people worth $40,000. And we constantly have a tendency to edge away from the people on the outside of our class—and yet Jesus says that's the kind of people we must edge up to if we are going to be really first class people.

I heard of another woman the other day. I know her pretty well. She is as bashful as a fourteen year old girl just setting her foot on the shores of womanhood. She is a cultured woman. She is a fine housekeeper and her parlor and her kitchen are neat as a sunbeam. She hates dirt, and she might very well have been the individual who wrote the slogan for the soap people—"If cleanliness be next to godliness then use Pear's soap."

But there are some ill-kept little boys in town. They run amuck in the dirt. They don't know about clean things. This lady turns her bathroom over to these lads and sees that they wash up and get cleaned all up fine. And then take a heartful interest in their minds and morals and the tone and soul pitch of their lives. They don't belong to her own class. But she is willing to take them into her own home and clean them up, and warm them up and feed them fried chicken.

She calls the poor to the feast.

And God loves anybody that does that. For Jesus tell us so.

Let us get out and call the poor to supper.

Elder Herbert Miles will preach Saturday morning and evening and Sunday evening at the Church of God.

"UNFOLD, YE PORTALS"

One of Numbers on Sacred Program By Maryville Concert Band Next Sunday Afternoon

Gounod gave to this work the title, "The Redemption, a Sacred Trilogy," and he wrote on the opening page, "The work of my life." He tells us that "the work is a lyrical setting forth of the three great facts on which depends the existence of the Christian Church: the passion and death of the Savior; His glorious life on earth, from the Resurrection to the Assumption; and the spread of Christianity throughout the world, through the mission of the apostles."

This chorbus occurs as the finale to the second part of the Trilogy:

Unfold, ye portals everlasting,
With welcome to receive Him ascending on high,
Behold the King of Glory! He mounts up through the sky,
Back to the heavenly mansions hasting,
Unfold, for lo! the King come nigh.
But who is He! the King of Glory?
He who Death overcome, the Lord in battle, mighty,
Of hosts, He is the Lord of Angels and of powers,
The King of Glory is the King of Saints,
Unfold ye portals everlasting,
For lo! the King comes nigh.

FIRE WAS NOT CAUSED BY ELECTRIC WIRES IN BARN

According to an investigation made by Blaine Archer of the Electric Light and Power Co., the fire which destroyed the barn on the Charles McNeal property on West Edwards street Wednesday evening was not caused from electric wires near the roof. The bulk of the fire was in the southeast corner of the garage room when the fire department arrived. The only light in the building was in front of a coal bin and the switch at the east door was turned off, according to Mr. Archer. Yesterday's Democrat-Forum stated it was presumed the fire started from electric wires near the roof. It is not known how the fire started.

D. R. GRISSINGER NAMED GOVERNOR OF RESERVE BOARD

Washington, Jan. 12—Daniel R. Crissinger of Marion, Ohio, was named as governor of the Federal Reserve Board by President Harding today. As soon as he is confirmed by the senate, he will take his office, succeeding W. P. G. Harding.

James G. McNally of New Mexico was appointed as comptroller of currency to succeed Crissinger.

Milo B. Campbell of Michigan, a dirt farmer, was also appointed as a member of the federal reserve board.

Mrs. Turner Is Great-Grandmother.

Mrs. G. W. Turner, 547 West Third street, received word yesterday of the birth of a son in the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Franklin Oliver, and Mr. Oliver, of Chicago. The baby was born January 5 and has been named James Hugh. Mrs. Oliver was formerly Miss Georgia Turner and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Turner of Chicago, former residents of Maryville.

NEW RADIO SET CONNECTS HARDING WITH THE NATION

Chief Executive "Tunes In" and Listens To Concerts And Programs Over Country.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Wireless has brought America to President Harding's private study in the White House.

By means of a new and powerful wireless receiving set, which has just been installed in the executive mansion by the Marine Corps, President Harding now can "listen in" on radio broadcastings throughout the nation.

The new wireless outfit is a Marine Corps set which was used during the war on mammoth tanks by the combatant forces of the United States on French battlegrounds. It replaced a smaller navy receiving set which formerly was at the White House.

President Harding operates the set himself. According to friends he spends many hours, usually after a hard day's work in the office, listening to concerts, speeches and radio programmes from such distant points as Chicago, Detroit, New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. He always finds keen joy whenever he "tunes in" on some famous orchestra, or a programme by a well-known singer.

Because he has denied himself all social engagements during Mrs. Harding's convalescence, the President has turned to the wireless for his evening's amusement instead of going to the theatre or to local entertainments. This is said to be the chief reason he ordered the larger radio set, in order to be able to hear broadcasting from the big wirless stations of the country.

The cheapest and at the same time the most valuable thing in America is newspaper advertising. Experts tell us that the value of what the United States produces annually is $40,000,000,000, and of this amount $800,000,000 is spent for advertising. In other words, 2 per cent of the total goes into advertising and the total of $800,000,000 more than $600,000,000 goes into newspaper advertising.

An unusual example of the power of the printed word was furnished recently by the San Francisco Chronicle. Two days before Christmas that newspaper published an editoral appeal asking its readers to stop their contributions to the Wounded Soldiers' Christmas Fund that had been conducted by that newspaper. The fund had been over-subscribed.

The merit of the thing advertised was unquestioned and the result was overwhelming public response. — Editor & Publiser.

Everyone in the vicinity of McBaine, writes the Columbia Missourian's correspondent, watched to see which direction the wind blew from on "old Christmas day," January 6. They decided it came from the southeast. The old residents say that it means a wet spring.—Columbia Missourian.

AUTOMOBILE TONIC FOR BAD NERVES AND EYES SAYS DOCTOR

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 12.—"Have you rheumatism? Buy a flivver. Have you neuritis? Buy a big car." So says Dr. Delmar Eugene Croft, local physician.

"All the motor cars in between are youth restorers. The automibile has greatly lengthened the span of life. It has checked the increase of insanity. Twenty-five years ago a large percentage of the insane came from the rural farm districts and the invalid people who are "shut-ins." The automobile has taken the farm to the city and it has taken the "shut-ins" out to the country and so has saved both.

"Automobile riding is a decided benefit to failing eye-sight and hearing. It invigorates the nervous system and brings new vitality to the optic and auditory nerves. Automobile riding is a tonic treatment for neurasthenices. It sends the blood flowing through the entire circulatory system, arouses assimilation, and so nourishes afresh the nerve centers."

"What is it that causes the majority of insane cases?" ask Dr. Croft. He answers himself with "It is the deadening sense of daily routine. Now the automobile has removed all routine and substituted spped. The psychology of the automobile is rejuvenation, reconstruction, coordination with ever changing scenery."

THE X-RAY SHOWS A RING THAT A THIEF SWALLOWED

Berlin Jeweler Has Patron Taken To Hospital When A Valuable Ring Disappears.

Berlin, Jan. 12.—Two elegantly dressed men the other day entered a jeweller's shop in the West-phalian city of Hagen, asking to have a few first-class rings shown to them. After the jeweller had displayed the goods he suddenly missed one of his most valuable rings.

He had the doors closed and politely asked his visitors to submit to a search, which they readily did, proclaiming their innocence. The search did not yield anything.

In the meantime the jeweller's wife, shrewd and suspicious, had telephoned to the police. Two detectives appeared and resumed the search on professional lines, with the same negative result.

As the jeweller, however, insisted that the ring must have been stolen, and coud not but be on the person of one of his two customers, they were taken to a nearby hospital. X-rays disclosed that one of them had surreptitiously swallowed the ring.

PUNISH MORAL OFFENDER

Symbol Is Dagger Surmounted "K. K. K." But Any Connection With Klan Denied.

London, Jan. 12—The Ku Klux Klan probably does not exist in England, but it is said to have been the inspiration of a secret society which is reported to be flourishing in seaport towns.

England's counterpart of the Ku Klux Klan is known as "The Secret League of the Lash." It is said to have been formed by Englishmen who have taken into their own hands the punishment of those who offend the moral laws.

"The Secret League of the Lash" is most secret, but it is reported that its purpose is to prevent men, not of the white race, from mingling with white women. In Cardiff and other seaport towns, where men of all races come down from the sea, there has been a growing tendency on the part of the women to forget the color line, and in fact, ther have been several scandals which have aroused the people of the country.

Ignore Color Line.

In London the investigations of Scotland Yard relative to alleged sale of narcotics has led to many statements which tend to show that the color line is not being strictly drawn.

The English secret society which has taken it upon itself to deal with offenses against the moral laws of the country and to establish itself as an inter-racial social arbiter is patterned after the Ku Klux Klan and has for its symbol a dagger surmounted by three "K's," yet it is denied that this organization has any connection with the Ku Klux Klan.

Lodges of "The Secret League of the Lash" are said to have been established in London, Cardiff, Newcastle—on—Tyne, Liverpool, Swansea and Glasgow.

Offenders Punished.

In several ports of England it is understood that "The Secret League of the Lash" has meted out punishment to persons offending against its own codes, and several racial riots which have occurred in seaport towns may have been the result of action taken by the secret society.

Thus far the operations of the secret society have been well covered, if it exists and is in operation as reported, and it has not crossed the path of the Government. Scotland Yard is reported to be conducting an inquiry into the organization.
